

What is it with you people? This HDTV copy protection is bullshit, just like all this Digital Rights Management stuff coming out. It is all designed to semi-lawfully prevent consumers from exercising fair use while allowing the providers to rape the consumer for every dollar. Just like you people in the government--that why they're turning to you for help: because you boys have got eons of experience squeezing the tax-payer for every penny.

Sorry this was so negative but I'm fed up with this legislated unfairness.
